STARSEED MISSION

To define a Starseed we find a being who has always understood home as being somewhere off world amongst the stars. They don't feel native to Earth and find humans to be strange and different from themselves. Even if they know they are a old soul they do not identify with many Earthly past life incarnations and may feel that they are from a future timeline, incarnating into the past. Starseeds are individuals who are comfortable spending great amounts of time alone in meditation as they are empaths who absorb energy from others and they want to stay uncontaminated. They are conscious co-creators who focus their thoughts towards the positive and dedicate themselves to self-understanding and self-overcoming. Starseeds do not feel comfortable being stagnate in jobs or relationships and know they have a very specific mission here on Earth now.

To be very clear, Starseeds are often seen as being different then others because they are tuned into a very different frequency. They are complex beings with high levels of spiritual intelligence as in they know that the most important part of their life is to know thyself deep inside. Starseeds are here to awaken and activate at different times to bring in a new vibration to this planet as the shift of the Age of Pisces moves into Aquarius. The Starseeds here now are ushering in a new thought pattern that can inspire change on this planet in large soul groups effecting far more then ever before.

A single activated Starseed has tremendous power to serve as a key to activate many more. They are here to guide others towards free-will authenticity and are here to express the right to live their destiny. No matter what profession they are in, they will choose a form that allows them to be inline with being of serves to changing the current state of the status quo. They are strong willed survivors who have had many obstacle placed in their path to experience great victories overcoming.

Not all Starseeds are awakened or activated. A activated Starseed is one who lives within the truth of knowing their origins and is fully mission activated towards a peaceful and harmonious life of no longing living in fear or victim mentality. Many will connect with being a Starseed before they become activated and fully awakened to their truth, they will still fell uncomfortable with speaking openly about their thoughts. Unactivated Starseeds still desire to live in the acceptance of others and value the options and judgments of them.

To become activated is to open up to all possibilities and clear energy to be grounded into their power of self-knowing. They understand that what they are here to achieve is far greater to then to waste any-time being caught up in human drama of ego, fear, greed or insecurities. Many being here on Earth have these same experiences but the awaked and activated Starseed dedicates to being in full manifested timeless power and they are soft, sweet, humble and accepting while maintaining strong boundaries.

South Node 11° Aquarius opposite 10° Leo Giansar

AC 17° Libra opposite 17° Aries Nodus II

The Starseeds that come from the constellation of Draco are mainly regarded as the human-reptilian hybrids of the original Reptilian Master Race here on Earth now carrying out the agenda of control over human lives. Most famous location for this is Thuban also known as Alpha-Draconis star system located at 7° of Virgo. This is not always the case as higher dimensional souls have been incarnating into the Draco line to bring a healing to the karmic line of not having empathy or compassion. The Draconian beings originally came from another universe rumored to be dropped off here by another race altogether and it seems they became almost native to the Pleiades before spreading out to the Draco and Orion constellations where they set out to conquer other worlds as the Draconian Controlled Orion Empire of the Unholy 6. The Draco's created the Dinosaurs on Earth and became involved with genetic mixing that went against the free will nature of the universe including human enslavement and negative influence from the astral field of Earth. It is believed that the Lyrans were trying to create a creature that could evolve of its own free will and the Draconians saw this as a breach of their genetic laws which only allowed the creation of life forms to serve as food or slaves. Sources claim that there was once a great war between the Draconians and the Lyrans who are believed to have seeded Mars and then Earth with the 'human' gene. It is said that the events that led up to the great war started with a 'chance' meeting between the Draconians and Lyran races and after disagreements about genetics the Draconians annihilated 3 Lyran planets and turned to Lyrans as a food source.

Most of today's world governments are noted as being Draco influenced or ruled with much being done to divide and separate as well as create large amounts of native energy to be harvested as food. On the lower side of their traits they can be very dominating and controlling as well as over assert power to get ahead of others by calculated methods that can include manipulation and lying. On the higher side they are very intellectual, confident, discerning, connected to ancient knowledge and history as well observant, organized and successful. Some have found the consciousness of their hearts and are in peace while others continue to thrive off fear and discord.

Naturally they do see opportunity in many unfortunate circumstance and tend to take advantage of the situation with preplanned strategy. They sense highly the motives of others and seem to be many steps ahead in the game with accurate instincts. They literally smell fear and weakness and will prey upon this even using their intrusive telepathic mind control tactics to get others to do what they want. Some Dracos require respect and order of effective hierarchies and can be very arrogant. Several sources claim they are the original inhabitants of Earth and were driven from the planet by the visiting Adamic / Evadamic (humanoid species) race who may have been part of the Anunnaki and headed for the Draco Star System, many thousands of years ago and will return to take over earth again.

The current Starseed's here now often evolve from 5D races that are here to correct the negative karmic line, bring a heart centered and awaken unconditional love to Earth. Since humans have sentient Reptilian DNA, it is easy for these souls to incarnate within the human form and their true appearance can be seen by some. Reptilian slits in their eyes, flashes of scales or double blinking have all been connected to signs of shapeshifting. If you are a Draco Starseed it advisable to meditate on this location and your connection to it. How do you see the world in terms of free will and acceptance of all life forms. We as a human species do to animals what is said that they do to us, by genetically farming and slaughtering animals for food without regard to their feelings. We are mimicking the Reptilian agenda and we must come into our hearts to release desire of control and abuse of power. You are here to transmute a very abusive line and impart consciousness and empathy into the evolving reptilian nature.

You specifically are not directly conjunct to Arcturus but you are in showing enough activity within the fixed stars of the Bootes Constellation where Arcturus is located making these Starseed markers your reference point.

Arcturian Starseeds are some of the most advanced souls in the Milky Way Galaxy, incarnating on Earth to bring in higher dimensional frequencies of light. The Arcturian Starseed has deep within them the ability to speak the language of light, sacred geometry and alchemy. They are here to anchor into the Earth's grid new healing light technologies such as the Prana Wind Clearing Device that can be utilized for immediate healing through mediation.

The Arcturians are healers of the etheric realms, so in form on Earth they are proficient energy healers and are working on the emotional and physical body to transcend into their native 5th -12th Dimensional energetics. It is said that Arcturians have processed and cleared mainly all of their collective karma and live a light body activated life of service to wisdom and knowledge. Arcturus has been referred to as blueprint of polarity integration for Earth to master unconditionality. To achieve this the Arcturian Starseed must overcome expectations and conditions of limitation or lack. They must evolve through balance of both masculine and feminine polarities as on Arcturus the beings are Androgynous.

Edgar Cayce "The Sleeping Profit" described Arcturus as a 5th dimensional civilization that is a prototype of Earth's future and that it is a energy gateway which humans pass through during death and rebirth. This is a Stargate portal of entry for nonphysical consciousness to inhabit a vessel as well as a lower density to adjust in vibration for entry into planet Earth. The Arcturian Starseeds are teachers and overseers of the journey into 5D consciousness here on Earth and stand as ambassador's of peace and way showers of conflict resolution.

The strength of the Arcturian is that of a selflessness that can many times be taken advantage of here on Earth. The identity of healer may be one that they closely identify with or be completely out of touch with its true essence and may preform healing strictly for ego validation. The Arcturian Starseed is a of the making of a Master Soul, but is still susceptible to failing in their mission to Earth as they can get to caught in the emotions of being different, labeled the black sheep and always seeking knowledge that others find strange. Physically they have low blood pressure and low body heat temperatures similar to the RH- Blood Type. They are attracted to sacred geometry and crop circles and often find themselves a mystery to themselves.

It is important for the Arcturian Starseeds to know that they are here to be spiritual, emotional and mental healers for all of humanity and they must like Chiron, first heal themselves before they work deep in the energy fields of others. Love will always be the purest frequency to the Arcturian Starseeds as the Arcturian civilization is governed by the wisest and highest spiritual elders in the galaxy. The Arcturian Starseeds have the potential to be highly telepathic and their professional in life will be dictated by one's spiritual level. On Arcturus the level of a females spirituality marks them as suitable for the birth process in which a male and female bond mentally through meditation almost cloning their unified consciousness into a bonded form.

Arcturian Starseeds maybe more of your Vegan, non meat eaters and Sun Gazing types as on their home world they ingest energy as food and sleep only once a week. The practice of alchemy may become a strong part of their life as they well become masters of it in this lifetime. Arcturian are here to truly usher in a new future and are doing work in the past timeline of now from a future perspective. They will assist us with advanced technology, co-cooperative community living and sustainability as well as planning for better infrastructures . The Arcturians often show up in the form of a spirit guide and are on stand by to assist upon request. They honor free will at its highest degree and can not interfere with the beings on Earth unless direct one on one contact has been requested. You will see them often in craft clocked as clouds as they host some of the most advanced ships of any star race. Telepathic and claircognizance energies are some of the ways these ships communicate to the Arcturian Starseeds here on Earth, they transmit frequencies, geometric shapes, colors, songs, and ideas.

One of the main focuses of the Arcturian Starseed is activate the energy of the Throat Chakra and learn to speak their truth in all communications. Finding their own ability to speak truth can lead them into the path of helping others to do the same. They are here to bring divine knowledge from the spirit world into this one and create a new world for us to all enjoy.

Arcturus is a red giant located in the constellation of Bootes and considered to be older then our Sun ranging from 7.1-8.5billion years in age. It is also the brightest star north of the celestial equator and said to be a crystal blue world with aqua crystals beaming from the waters that engulf the star. It is interesting to know that Arcturus is part of a group of 52 old disk stars that share a common proper motion. This motion is abstract and different then the general stream of stars in the Milky Way's disk. This group of stars are known as the Arcturus Stream.

ORION CONNECTION

Mars 17° Sagittarius opposite 16° Gemini Rigel *Unholy Six and 17° Gemini Yuh Tsing

Orion Starseeds originate from the constellation of Orion located along the celestial equator and is inline to be the most visible constellation in the nights sky for the greatest span of time. The Ancient Egyptians claimed their God's came from the belt stars of Orion which is regarded as Osiris and nearby Sirius which is Isis his sister wife. The Belt of Orion Star Systems Alnitak, Alnilam and Mintaka were the locations for more physical incarnations in Orion, where Alnitak is a place of the creation of different physical forms and species. It is said that beings from Orion live on worlds that range from the 5th-7th Dimensional and reach far outside of their local area.

Here on Earth we see in the Great Pyramid of Giza in Egypt tell the celestial story of the connection between Isis and Osiris with individual chambers coming from both the Kings and Queens chambers pointing to Sirius and Orion. The Orion's came to Earth and intervened with human evolution as the Sirian's did and aided in both healing technology and destruction. Much of the work of present day Orion Starseeds stems from this story of love, lie's, betrayal and death, though the mythology of Isis and Osiris. Due to this they are labeled in the dual polarity of good and bad but this is not so much the case as they operate from a different set of perspectives than modern humans. Beings on Orion tend to work individually for the benefit of themselves in balance to the whole so as to assist all through simple connection to the oneness consciousness.

Durning the time the Great Orion Wars broke out with the Sirian race lead to much karma being generated as well as both races being spread far out into the galaxy where they now occupy many worlds wether in peace or military force. The more military force we call the Draco controlled Orion Empire of the Unholy 6. This group is comprised of Draco Reptilians originally from the Pleiades who broke away from the Feminine based rulership and now inhabit Thuban as well as other conquered locations in Orion, Bootes and Canis Major. You can look to examples of traits these beings express by looking at the tactics of the FBI and CIA, the Shadow Government or the source of negative energy harvesting.

Orion Starseeds do have a very questioning nature, which can be somewhat uncomfortable for those around them as they ask many questions searching for understanding. They naturally process information into strategy and are known for being very intelligent scientifically and architecturally. They are known to observe people as if to studying them for intel almost taking on the role of spy to learn everything they want to know. They are not passive and though they may spend a lot of time alone they are also social and blend well into large groups of diverse people. Orion Starseed's are natural problem solvers fully tapped into their gut intuition which when they listen to it, leads them to the right set of circumstances. They are here to purge and heal through transformation and compassion learning to become aware of their emotions. From the mental mind they can overanalyze and get to logic based which leads to self-sabotage and manipulation not remembering to rise above the mental and physical bodies, into their emotional body which is a key to their success. They maybe highly misunderstood or judged by their family and friends from early on in life and may not have many close ties they count on or value. They tend to be very organized, making excellent teachers as they are true researchers and focused on the details of subjects or interactions. Orion Starseeds must work to feel into their lives and not only look at life through the logic filter.

Orion is also known for having an Angelic race, which is feline in nature and referred to as The White Lion Masters, sometimes being noted as having multi-colored wings. They are of the quality of Ascended Masters and highly evolved beings teaching strength in alignment with service to the divine. They are the spiritual warriors bringing clarity and focus to us for understanding "willing sacrifice" and to be aware of the illusions and causes of negativity.

The Orion's themselves did contribute to our DNA either through genetic manipulation or the Orionid meteor shower with best known being Halley's Comet, which passed through the inner solar system in 1986 on its 75- to 76-year orbit. When the comet passes through the solar system, the sun sublimates some of the ice, allowing rock particles to break away from the comet. These particles continue on the comet's trajectory and appear as falling stars when they pass through Earth's upper atmosphere. Alien life via microbes falling to Earth to seed life from the distant constellation. It seems that the Orion's have been engaged in human affairs during what we call the prehistoric times with the earliest depiction that has been linked to the constellation of Orion is a prehistoric (Aurignacian) mammoth ivory carving found in a cave in the Ach valley in West Germany in 1979. Archaeologists have estimated it to have been fashioned approximately 32,000 to 38,000 years ago.

OPHIUCUS STARSEED

Mars 17° Sagittarius conjunct 17° Sagittarius Sabik

Pluto 08° Sagittarius conjunct 06° Sagittarius Ruchba

The Ophiuchian Starseeds are an incredibly rare incarnated soul group and have ties to past lifetimes of being in the seat of power during Ancient Egypt as the Kings and Queens of old. This Starseed race comes from very close to the Celestial Equator and is the 13th major constellation in our sky in which Sidereal Astrology does recognize and consider to be a viable Sun Sign. Many Ophiuchian Starseeds have close energetic connections to at one time being connected to the Feline, Hawk or Dog Humanoids that make up the 3 main races on Ophiuchs. Ophiuchus means "the serpent bearer". and has seven stars with known planets as well as a number of Nebulas.

The Ophiuchian Starseed is powerful in energetic magnetism, depth of knowledge and wisdom and carries themselves with a true sense of who they are. Growing up they feel closely connected to stories, mythology and the hieroglyphics of Ancient Egypt. They attract stones and crystals into the life that may stay with them forever forward after acquiring and can feel the crystals energy as if it is speaking to them. Ophiuchian Starseeds have a natural air of regal qualities that they search for and demand in others and in all areas of their lives. The road to self discovery and remembrance is almost like a thirst or hunger and all adversity must be overcome in order to assist others in overcoming challenges.

Many Ophiuchian Starseeds are also Cygnus Starseeds and have come to Earth at this time to tame and evolve the lower reptilian mind. Some many even be from the constellation of Draco where the mythical Dragon come from. Ritual purification is natural to the Ophiuchian Starseeds and they uphold a high moral code and act from a place of high standard.

If you are a Ophiuchian Starseed you may seek higher knowledge and constantly look to ancient times to learn of the cycles of time. You may feel as if you are the reincarnation of a ancient Egyptian God or Goddess and walk your talk no matter what life throws at you. You maybe looked at by your community as someone who simply knows what it really going on and you are very interested in the battle between duality. You know that knowledge is key and fundamental to ascension and you know you are here to show others the path to a better life. Your mission seems so big that you may experience fear before you come into your full manifested power in this life. You know you are destined for success that is in the field of evolving humanity and you will stop at nothing to rise once again.

At times the past-life memories of being able to build megalithic monuments with your mind and to harness the power of free energy can be extremely frustrating and you must work towards keeping a realistic perspective on the now and not then.

Ophiuchian Starseeds are extremely smart and creative and have a eye for patterns and hidden means. They enjoy traveling and connecting to those they are soul connected to. The mysteries of life are of a fascination point for the Ophiuchian Starseeds and they will question everyone and everything in there lives to test for impurities that are not of high moral stature.

Many times Ophiuchian Starseeds draw attention as they have a sweet yet powerful beauty to them that is unmistakable. Many tend to stare at them causing them to feel uncomfortable with so much attention that they may not understand. It is important for the Ophiuchian Starseeds to know their own power and stand tall with grace, continuing to be of service to mankind.

HYADEAN CONNECTION

Pluto 08° Sagittarius opposite 05° AND 06° Gemini Haydes

Hyadean Aliens are extra terrestrials that make their home in the Hyades Star Cluster in the constellation Taurus the Bull. The Hyades Star Cluster consists of 300 to 400 stars and is approximately 151 light years from the planet earth. The Hyadeans populate a number of planets throughout the star systems present in this part of the galaxy that stretches over 80 light years in diameter.

Many associate the largest star in the apparent direction, Aldebaran, with the Hyades systems but in reality has nothing to do with the neighborhood of planets and is much closer to earth. The star systems of the Hyades stretch into what is called the Hyades stream which is a number of star systems many of which contain extra terrestrial life. The Hyades stream nearly stretches half way to the Pleiades star cluster which is approximately 440 light years from earth with a diameter of 43 light years. The Pleiades also harbor a great amount of extra terrestrial life through its star systems. Paranormal researchers often call this part of the universe the "band of life" as significant amount of life of extra terrestrial beings are said to reside in this part of the galaxy.

The Hyadeans are refugees of the constellation Lyra after the first great galactic conflict. When the Lyran home world Avalon was brutally savages by Reptilian aggressors, the inhabitants of that star system fled throughout the galaxy. While a great many fled to the Pleiades and other star systems some of these Lyrans made their way to the Hyades Star Cluster to start a new home. The Hyadeans have remained much less active in galactic diplomacy then their brothers the Pleiadians. Little is known about the race of Hyadeans although they have been reported to be contactees channeling individuals on earth. The Hyadean aliens are humanoid said to look very similar to Pleiadians and have a similar "nordic" look.

The Hyadean civilization stood as a "frontier" territory for the lyrans seeking refuge from their invaders. Since, the Hyadean civilization has grown and prospered spreading life throughout the Hyades stream.

STARGATE PORTALS STARSEEDS

Pluto 08° Sagittarius conjunct 09° Sagittarius Antares, Royal Bohemian Fixed Star Stargate to Andromeda, Archangel Uriel Watcher of the West

The super Red Giant at the heart of the constellation of Scorpio is the Royal Fixed Star of the West called Antares also Ares meaning "rival of Mars". This location sits exactly opposite Aldebaran in the constellation of Taurus and these points open a Stargate portal for souls incarnating from other galaxies and universe outside the Milky Way.

The Antarians are considered to be the gateway keepers of the higher realms of souls moving into a higher consciousness. Once a soul has evolved into a new state of consciousness it then passes through the Antarian portal to access greater frequencies within the Universe and maintains access to soul memories from lifetime to lifetime. It is also known as a inter dimensional bridge from the Andromeda galaxy to our own Milky Way. They do assist Earth in many ways and are 5-7th Dimensional Beings, some being reptilian in nature while others are of a blueish skinned race. Antarians are known as the Master Warriors of the Light and their energy is very strong and intense making it a bit harder to bring down into the human earthling form.

Antares has the energy of Jupiter and Mars expanding the power of its influence it is able to transmit to any planet transiting this body as it is 4 times bigger than our Sun. In Ancient Egypt Antares represented the Goddess Selket the Scorpion Goddess who's temple was a symbol to Isis in the Pyramid Ceremonies in about 3,700 BC. She is a protector Goddess from venomous creatures and scorpions, who watches over pregnant women and children, having once helped Isis heal Horus when bitten by a magical snake sent by Set. Some even believe Selket may have been the daughter of Ra. It is stated that if you have any astrological placements including this Royal Fixed Star then you must work to protect that place as it represents where your emotions can get out of hand and become volatile. Ghandi's natal Ascendent was conjunct Antares and he was assassinated as a noted trait of interaction with this placement. Antares has historically been noted as causing many great conflicts on Earth as well as being a trigger to violence and destruction.

The Antarians have been said to have underground bases in the Antarctic where ships with the swastika have been sighted by such as member of the Secret Space Program, Corey Goode. The swastika represents the four cardinal points, the four elements and the four agreements, it is not the evil emblem we now associate with the Aryan race. However it is the opposite side of Antares, Aldebaran that has been said to have assisted Hitler in his pursuits as he was a avid seeker of occult knowledge and artifacts.

Starseeds from this location may very well also be from Arcturus and Andromeda as they have chosen to incarnate with their soul's memories intact as well as they represent a very evolved soul who is seeking new frequencies within this galaxy. Many seem to be loners who are highly interested in scientific discoveries and military tactics including technology for war strategies. These Starseeds are also very intelligent, wise and decisive. They are here to effect the atomic structure of the human body as we shift into a new vibration on this planet.

Antarian Starseeds may have close connections with snakes, scorpions and other venomous creatures. They are highly telepathic and sense energy very accurately. Stabilizing the structure of their emotions is highly important for the Antarian Starseeds as they may have specific triggers linked to past life memories that they have come to work on and transmute. They are to focus on purifying their physical and mental body achieving a strong structure to deal with fluctuating energies that are now hitting our planet. Antares is located near the Great Central Sun and is therefore able to filter cosmic rays that effect our DNA and cause ascension symptoms. The goal is to be open and joyous without any blockages and a avoidance of disturbances. They have a very magnetic energy field and can attract what we call Archon Implants either physical or etheric. These implants are mostly noted for tracking individuals but are also implanted for mind control usage and infiltration of certain Starseeds incarnated here now.

With this location being such a prominent Stargate Portal it is possible that the famed Looking Glass also connected to CERN may have some close connections here for inter dimensional entities to peer into this local star system and set their sights on specific individuals. Because Antarian Starseeds hold a frequencies of Antares this makes it easy for them to spotted from beyond. Protection work of the occult is very important for the Antarian Starseed and a daily ritual of cleansing and protection is recommended as a practice. Call upon Archangel Uriel the angel of wisdom for help let go of destructive emotions such as anxiety and anger or before making any important decisions. Archangel Uriel watches over this Royal Fixed Star of the West and as a Anatarian Starseed you have a close affinity to this archetype.

ELOHIM CONNECTION

Pluto 08° Sagittarius opposite 09° Gemini Aldebaran

Aldebaran, a orange giant of great age is the Royal Fixed Star of the East located in the constellation of Taurus exactly opposite Antares located at the heart of Scorpio. These two placements open a Stargate Portal from the Andromeda Galaxy to our Mikly Way. Aldebaran is located as the right eye of the bull, known as they eye of illumination and has been linked to Buddha or Diamond like consciousness. This location marks the vision holders for the Starseed mission on Earth as they serve humanity in creating long term solutions to our main fields of study and industry. Many of our new age alternative living infrastructures have been credited by the Aldebaran as they form projects that will assist us into a new shift of conscious living.

Those from Aldebaran are called the Elohim "The Shining One's", once being of a unified energy, fractured by thought sought to be carried in physical vessels suitable for planet Earth. They are known for creating stars, planets and universes as well as life throughout all, they are called the Builders of Creation. Much generic manipulation was done between the Elohim and hominids to create what has now evolved into modern man. The Elohim did this as a means to survival as their home world's Sun began to expand and broke up their planet, thought to have once orbited Sirius as a inter dimensional yet physical body. This implies they are able to defy the laws of physics and move between spaces in ways we have yet to conceive of. They had to adjust the frequencies between themselves and the physicality of Earth which created karma for deliberately modifying another life form, going against the Universal Law. When both Aldebaran and Antares are activated they create a Stargate portal into the mysteries of the mind and the heart allowing Starseeds who take advantage of these activation to access deeper truths held tight within their souls memories.

The Elohim here now as Aldebaran Starseeds carry the soul memory of losing their home world more then once as well as they have the feeling of being disconnected to their original knowing and being. As a very interesting mix of etheric light balanced in masculine and feminine energies their home world was much like ours just on another plain. When they stepped into human bodies they felt the great pain of polarity and fracturing of unity. The Elohim also accessed the Milky Way in far previous times through the Vega Stargate Portal located in the constellation of Lyra, a world named Avalon which was destroyed in the first Galactic Wars between the Sirians and the Orions. This is one of the many underlying themes of death and destruction that runs in our instinctual make up as physical bodies can parish. The Elohim of Avalon became the refugees of the Haydes constellation which acts a bridge between the Pleiades and Orion. It has even been rumored that Hitler came across a crashed alien ship from Aldebaran in 1936 in the Black Forest, which lead to the Aldebaran aliens assisting him in making a ship to travel through the portal in Antarctica in 1945 after losing the war. The Aldebaran Starseeds carry a very special crystal gene that will assist mankind in taking a quantum leap forward once activated.

This gene is embedded in the DNA of enlightened beings and once active either from birth or awakening experience, keeps the Starseed on mission course for evolution. This gene connects us back to our original beginnings and speaks to crystals themselves being used as a primitive gene. For this reason it is very important that they work to reunify the divine masculine and feminine energies within oneself striving to stay mission driven on remembering one's purpose for incarnating here. Aldebaran is also known as the star of illumination and shines the way to powerful transformation reflecting the souls light through the mind. Starseeds have a desire to study, live and create unique and clean ways of eating and living. They are extremely aware of energy in contrast to the physical body and seek to become lighter in frequency and weight. In Hebrew the word Elohim means God the Father-Mother God of creation, elemental builders of form. Archangel Micheal is the watcher of Aldebaran and is here to assist us with protection, truth, integrity, courage, and strength. You can call upon Micheal in any crisis and receive immediate help.

Aldebaran Starseeds are powerful in manifestation and can think logically while tapped into their creative brain to form new and innovative solutions to old problems. They are those that think new green ways of living and doing business into creation. These Starseeds are likely to be interested in think tanks, politics, Free Mason's and the education system. Science, genetics, magic as well as musical scales and frequency harmonics are all of high level interests to them. They work to lead very spiritual lives and are called to study occult knowledge and practice Alchemy. They are here to inspire us to take the physical action required to manifest the collective vision. As ambassadors of light many will rise to places of power and become influencers of the next stage in mankind's alien adventure.

ANDROMEDA CONNECTION

AC 17° Libra opposite 16° Aries Kui Su Wu and 19° Aries Zeta Reticulum epsilon

The Andromeda constellation contains the actual Andromeda Galaxy itself which is approximately 2.5 million light years away and includes two dwarf elliptical galaxies Messier 32 and Messier 110. It is in a essence a "Gateway Galaxy", transmitting energy and consciousness for intergalactic travel of both physical and non-physical dimensional beings from far beyond our own galaxy. There are a number of stars in the constellation that has multiple confirmed exoplanets and is the closest spiral galaxy to the Milky Way. It is so the farthest object in the night sky visible to the naked eye, getting closer and closer to the Milky Way for an eventual merge. As a reference to the cosmic magnitude of Andromeda, the Milky Way contains 200-400 billion stars where as the Andromeda Galaxy has trillions!

Starseeds from Andromeda are incredibly unique and foreign to the natural cosmic energy stream in the Milky Way and here on Earth more specifically. They are a conduit to communication connections through streams of consciousness running through into Andromeda from other galaxies. These energies can feel unstable as they come in and the Andromedan Starseed seeks to make sense of how best to absorb it or express it. The mission directive is to learn and then teach how to integrate cosmic light codes into the physical body and then to infuse the world around them with this light which is information for humanity to move forward. Energy healing work in some way or another calls to almost all Andromedans.

Many evolved groups of both Sirian and Pleiadian Masters also join with the Andromedans to work closely with beings from non-physical dimensions who pass through the Andromeda Gateway for entry into the Milky Way. Much of this work is done in dreamtime or meditation in which the starseed may not have active memory recall of. Within the Andromedan Starseed is a intense need for freedom, travel, experience and change. They are a group of beings with 15 jobs on their resume by the time they are 20, who have lived at many different addresses and had many relationships as they must test and try everything.

They seek to find love and confidence within extreme contrast as they come into this world feeling alien to its energies and seeking to understand their place in it, somehow knowing that they must do it all. To many they may seem scattered in their interests or unfocused. Many will rebel against labels that others give to them and possibly refuse to label even themselves for distain of anything that may limit their growth or possibilities.

Andromedans don't just feel different but they know they are different as they have gifts and abilities that include telepathy, remote healing, feeling or viewing abilities and in their DNA seems to be a type of wormhole activation trigger. This allows them to channel higher dimensional light fragments as a language and have regular O.B.E's. They are high level empaths who can at times be aggressive in their nature as well as extremely sensitive causing bouts of confusion and doubts in their self confidence to make it in this abstract environment. Their connection to Creator or God if you will is a natural born trait that is source fact in their minds and the more they deepen and strengthen this bond the more mastered soul gifts begin to return to them.

At times the Andromedans can feel like a science experiment growing in a petri dish that is too small for them and they desire to go far beyond their local area and explore in some very physically challenging ways at times. The rush of adrenaline feeds their soul and they push the limits of the physical body. Though they maybe self-critical and overly serious at times, they are caring and intelligent making many gifted healers that use their own nature as a platform to identify why others maybe self-critical as well. Connecting with others in almost a virtual world simulation that their energy can produce they are able to create a safe place to be healed and heard.

The best way to access Andromedan gifts are to truly deepen in self love mastery and then teach what they have learned, leading by example with large amounts of freedom and growth.

Stagnation is nearly death to the Andromedan Starseed and many new and different ways of interacting with them is necessary for balance and harmony to be maintain.

ZETA II RETICULI STARSEED * Unholy Six

ZETA II RETICULI CONNECTION

AC 17° Libra opposite 19° Aries Zeta Reticulum epsilon

Zeta Reticuli is home of an intelligent extraterrestrial race of what are believed to be the Grey's. This race visited Earth in the early 1960's and where identified by Betty and Barney Hill during a hypnosis regression of their abduction that happened September 19, 1961 in New Hampshire. The couple remembered spotting what looked like a moving star making an erratic pattern in the nights sky before being taken. Durning the post hypnosis session Betty recalled being taken and examined on the ship and asked where "they" where from. The humanoid ET showed Betty a star map and pointed out what we now know to be Zeta Reticuli, previously unknown in the world of astronomy.

The Zeta Reticuli is a Binary Star System comprised of both Zeta Reticlui 1 and 2 both almost identical to our sun and separated by 350 billion miles, orbiting one another about every 100,000 years. These stars are housed inside the constellation of Reticulum near the border of Horologium.

It is thought that this race of beings suffered a major atomic explosion on an Earth like planet in the constellation of Lyra causing them to go underground and begin genetic cloning of their species. This cloning for survival of the race led to space travel throughout the galaxy for technological study and advancement having been credited with abductions of humans and mutilations of animals. Most of this work is thought to be in collaboration with the US Government.

Emotions were bred out of the Zeta's in order to prevent future destruction of their species as emotions unmatched with their technological advancements had led to the loss of plant life and food supply. Through mass cloning processes they depleted the supply of genetic material and became stagnant and inbred causing a need for new DNA and bodies to incarnate into. The goal was to correct the mistakes they had made leading to the state of their species, now unable to advance any further.

The Human Zeta Hybrid program became what we now know to be the Indigo and Crystal Children largely incarnating in the 1980's in order to advance human DNA and the consciousness of the Zeta souls. There are thought to be millions of Zeta Souls here on Earth now. This project is very complex and advanced as they act as activators to other types of ET Starseed's and are here to create outside the box. The Zeta's are of a hive mind and that allows the Zeta Starseed to be proficient in mind reading, telepathy and non verbal communication.

Many Zeta's are being controlled by pharmaceuticals after being diagnosed as ADHD with hyperactive disorders, learning disabilities and down syndrome. The ability for Zeta's to think outside the box and break the communication barriers of modern society are a source of fear to those in control of the mass populations minds. They are here to cause evolution of humans and Zetas to take a quantum leap forward and cause an evolutionary shift in power and the roles we all have in taking back control.

Zeta Starseeds are gifted with a refined detachment that can make them seem extremely socially awkward being focused on information and study, thinking beyond the traditional box. When motivated properly they can be powerful healers and teachers, tapping into a source code information that is off line for many. They are gamers and tech geniuses, programmers and matrix breakers. They can heal with their minds and touch, seeing in almost x-ray vision of the energy system at play behind most things.

Zetas minds are fast processors of research and information, studying human emotions during much of their lives and wondering why they don't quite fit the script written for most humans here. They have a strong sense of simply knowing and often out grow information presented by the school system leaving them to lack focus where society says there should be. Zeta's need mental stimulation and are highly imaginative allowing them to travel the astral worlds quite easily using energy fields.

The goal is very beautiful and peaceful in retrospect. They are here to bridge gaps in evolution and create a 12 strand DNA structure encoded with compassionate consciousness. Learning how to be more human is the hard part and truly understanding emotion is a complex complication to a Zeta. To not be so focused on the logical aspects and focus on the energy is a key to success for a Zeta. They are drawn to technology like a moth to a flame and spend life immersed with the web.

Zeta Starseed's can fall prey under heavy medication and lose their way becoming withdrawn and self-conscious of what they are thinking, saying or doing. They are greatly misunderstood and expressing joy for them looks quite removed to most, leaving others in their lives to feel that they do not care. They can become dependent on medication and abuse to the point of losing their will and desire to be a part of society or this world and can go into an almost dark-web hibernation. It can be very hard to reach a Zeta who is lost in thought and regard for emotions. They may eat very little and stay inside for a large majority of the day being more active at night.

Understanding and verbal communication of their emotions is to be practiced as well as the realization that their minds work differently than most and that is ok. There are soul contracts in place for Zeta's in this lifetime to do this evolutionary work and that is a beautiful gift to humanity and beyond when done correctly.

CANIS MAJOR/ SIRIAN CONNECTION

IC 18° Capricorn opposite 17° Cancer Asteriod Isis, 18° Cancer Hu Shi ba, 19° Cancer Muliphein and 20° Cancer Adhara

Sirius is the Sun of our Sun, also known as the Central Sun located in the constellation of Canis Major at 14 of Cancer and orbited by Sirius B once called the Dark Star and Sirius C. The African tribe called the Dogon of Mali where once from Ancient Egypt, possibly the land of Khem that The Emerald Tablets of Thoth speaks of when the Son's of Atlantis fled to the land of Khem to be teachers among men. It was in those lands that the Dogon of that time received the astronomical information related to Sirius A, B and C, as well as agriculture knowledge taking mankind from hunter gathers to farmers. The Sirians themselves are the one's who delivered this knowledge and technology to the Dogon and the Ancient Mayan Civilization whom they gifted the Galactic Calendar represented by the 9 Galactic Tones. The Galactic Tones where representations of time in relationship to conscious soul expansion. The 1st Galactic Tone began 16.4 billion years ago associated with the big bang and lead to tone 2 which was 840 million years, the 3rd was 40 million years ago and so on leading to present day after December 21, 2012 where consciousness is now evolving every 28 days which once took 16.4 Billion years in the beginning. Today we call this the Universal Cycle representing Conscious Co-Creation. Some believe the end of this ninth cycle is also known as the birth of the 6th Sun and the 5th Earth – the beginning of a new 5,125-year cycle.

Sirius is the brightest visible star in the sky from any point on Earth and because its flicker is multi colored it has been reported as being a UFO sighting on many occasions, by many people from allover the world.

Sirians work with the frequencies of creation and the energy incased in physical avatar bodies. It is the study of electrical energy and creating electrical fields are the order and chaos of the universe as a whole. The Sirian Starseed carries a level of discernment of energy to read as function or disfunction. The gravity on Sirius B is such that if we where to stand on the surface we would be mashed flat and in that is the atomic level of gravity and anti gravity that they have adapted to be able to adjust the avatar body with their relationship of gravity thereby changing the density of pressure. Ground potential is able to conduct electric current that effects the electrical spin which is the kundalini once activated by consciousness. Sirius B is known as a Stargate that operates between the wavelength of colors and negative and positive polarities of the brown dwarf that opens to other dimensions. These dimensional beings must be super conductors working with the fields of physical and non physical fields of energy.

The Annunaki have been closely associated with the Sirians in many different ways but more so with the creation of modern man. It was the desire for Gold a known superconductor to both heal their atmosphere and DNA telameraes when transformed into monoatomic gold. This extended the life of beings who ingest monoatomic gold but the Annunaki are said to have abused its use and lost their ability to charge implode their souls, leaving them unable to reincarnate and maintain their memories of past lives. They now are forced to seek this substance at any cost to remain in the same body and continue to maintain control. The Annunaki are also known as the Nephilim a 3rd dimensional race from Nibiru who through merging with the Sirians who came to Earth about 200,230 years ago with 16 males and 16 females, gave birth to the first human beings. A large portion of the Sirian race has long been thought to be reptilian in nature and though that holds some truth for some Sirian groups, not all are. We can see these reptilian groups as the heads of State throughout the countries of Earth. They are those considered to be shapeshifter's in the worlds governments stretching all the way back to Ancient Lemuria, Semuria, Atlantis and Egypt working to maintain world domination of the human species. These reptilian groups are presently processing the karma inflicted from the first galactic wars with Orion that destroyed the home world of Lyra, then called Avalon. During these conflicts many Sirians and Orions created karmic ties in both love and hate. We here on Earth now are healing the wounds of these galactic conflicts and as above, so below is reflected daily in our lives.

Sirius Starseeds are highly intellectual and are drawn towards the stars, many have a strong interest in ancient origins and physics of all kinds with a strong disposition to believe in E.T. life forms.

The Humanoid Sirians originate of the constellation of Lyra, more specifically, Vega, a Stargate portal to the Universe of Light. This portal connects to Sirius B which is a Portal Star that most Star Masters use for travel between realms and dimensions. These Star Masters are also called portal beings and are said to not possess a physical body but appear to be highly energy based.

The portal beings from Sirius B are of The Temple of Sirius, where the divine feminine Goddess ways are taught to the high initiates. Isis and Mary Magdalene are portal beings themselves, allowing dimensional travel just by being in their powerful energetic presence. The Great Pyramid of Giza's Queens chamber points straight to Sirius as a direct mention of Isis.

It is not easy to be called a friend by a Sirian Starseed as they are very giving in loyalty and trust and possibly too much so as they have expectations to receive the same treatments in return. If a Sirian opens up and really shares themselves with you, then you are highly regarded in their eyes. They are learning to speak up in regards to expectations and work to release them altogether. Communication to maintain clarity in their relationships is key to success. Sirians are slow to anger but once fully provoked, it is advisable to stand back as they then have to allow the anger to run its course. Forgiveness, letting go and living in the present are all focused on by Sirian Starseeds in this life and taking a walk down memory lane is not an easy task for them as they feel it is a very backwards motion of thought.

You will always know a Sirian by their energy signature which is very magnetic and mysterious, something about them feels majestic and they are very wise and surprisingly funny. They have almost magical powers of intuition, empathy and supernatural abilities. They are natural healers and teachers connected with nature, whales, dolphins and bees which mark their royal disposition. Many have Rh- Blood and stigmatism allowing them to see dimensional beings, many are also dyslexic and considered to have problems learning basic human school studies. They are dreamers in imagination and that leads to their genius in life and finding ways to continue to help the global collective heal and rise. They are natural inspirers and can excite the collective to work towards focused goals.

Sirians have a deep connection to Atlantis and the original Native American Indians who are the survivors of the Atlantean fall. America has been noted many times as being the main land of Atlantis and the Natives are those who never left and who maintained the original teaching. Many Sirian Starseeds have reoccurring dreams of living life as a Native American or learning from Shaman's or Medicinal Women. They are naturally attracted to and know how to interact with crystals, essential oils, sage and other energy cleansing tools. They may be a natural at Astrology, Tarot and Reiki as well as Life Coaching and have a natural disposition to daily ritual. As children they are extremely intuitive and can sense, see, feel and hear spirits of other-worlds or realms, their parents may see this as their child having imaginary friends. They are most likely to remember their past lives or where they came from before they arrived in this incarnation and it is useful to ask them as early as possible, questions to keep their memories going. Sirius Starseed children are also very aware of their destiny or mission in this life and feel that they have a very important task at hand to help people. They tend to understand energy early and work to protect and cleanse their auras before they may have words to describe what they are doing or why. They love nature and animals and can have a very strong telepathic connection with almost all living things.

Sirius Starseeds are loners and appreciate time to themselves either in a relationship or single, in a family or large community group. They tend to work best alone as well, finding it hard to maintain project based relationships as they can only be involved with projects that are highly personal to them and therefore emotional. When disagreements in direction or morals comes up, it is sure to sidereal the entire project as the negative energy is not allowed into the creation process of a Sirian. They need to be able to look back upon their work and know that it is of the highest and the best. Sirian Starseeds also highly prefer to make their own mistakes, not having anyone else to blame or to be disappointed by makes them feel in control and safe. This way they make sure they will be successful and in a position to share the fruits of their labor with those they love. They seem very strong and guarded to most but they are actually soft, creative and kind, discovering their loving side takes dedication and understanding. Many unusual experiences happen in the Sirian's lives from supernatural experiences to lucid dreams and channeled messages as well as vivid visions that many would never understand so they tend to be quiet about the most special parts of themselves. What we presently consider to be a typical intimate relationship is highly unlikely to work for a Sirian as they are not allowed to be distracted from their goals for too long and unless they are engaged in a progressive, freedom based relationship they may feel that love isn't for them. At a certain point in life they give up trying to live the normal human life of family, career and kids as they just don't fit the status quo. They begin to gravitate towards Entrepreneurship and have an alternative lifestyle and relationships.

LYRAN STARSEED

IC 18° Capricorn conjunct 18° Capricorn Sheliak

LYRAN CONNECTION

MC 18° Cancer opposite 18° Capricorn Sheliak

The Lyrans are one of the oldest incarnating beings originating within the Milky Way Galaxy. Lyra is home to Vega located 15° of Capricorn and is bordered by Draco, Hercules and Cygnus. It is said that the Lyrans are the root race of all humanoid species within our galaxy and often incarnate in other star systems such as Sirius, the Pleiades and Arcturus giving them a diverse set of features and skills. See Vega for more information on Lyra's original home world Avalon and its destruction.

The Lyrans did contribute to our genetic creation for being seeded here on Earth during the time of Atlantis and brought to us the element of fire and instilled in us a strong work ethic. They are here to learn through re-membering and teaching the ancient Lemurian and Atlantean ways of using physical energy. They have the most experience of incarnating into physical density and most have conquered their fear of the bodies limitations, feeling very comfortable pushing themselves past where most would give up. They seems to have less limitations as they essentially have more physical experience and have worked longer tapping into the energy of the divine masculine.

They are open to alternative ways of thinking and often tap into metaphysics and analyze people and social interactions. They are extremely goal oriented and often prefer the pursuit of their dreams to human pastime's.
